UNREST ALONG LABOR FRONT IS MOUNTING

Number of Idle Climbed To 125,000 Mark, Highest in Months

(By Associated Press)
Unrest along the country's labor front became more pronounced today as the number of idle climbed to around the 125,000 mark—the highest in months.

As the strike trend headed upward, it was recalled some union officials in midsummer predicted a wave of work stoppages would follow soon after the end of the war. An Associated Press survey disclosed approximately 40 separate work stoppages across the country. The number of idle in the struck plants ranged from 25 employees of the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Co. in Lexington, Ky., to 30,800 workers at the Ford Motor Co. plants in Detroit and other cities.

Coal, Steel Stoppages
Added to the 30,800 idle Ford employees were some 13,000 other employees in Detroit motor companies, including the 4,500 at the Kelsey-Hayes wheel company where a continuing strike resulted in the halting of production of passenger cars and trucks at the Ford plants. Officials said 22,000 workers in the Detroit area plants would be recalled to work Monday.

Other stoppages halted work in coal mines, steel and packing plants and other manufacturing concerns and deprived thousands of West Virginians of fuel gas. In Chicago 20 graduate nurses of 30 employed at the Provident hospital were on strike to obtain wage increases and a 30-day vacation period.

Some of the bigger stoppages kept 15,000 idle at the B. E. Goodrich company's six rubber plants in Akron, while a similar number were off the job—but reported ready to return Monday—at the Consolidated Steel Corp. in Beaumont, Tex.

The Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. operating in Pittsburgh were halted and 10,000 idled by a sit-down strike of 60 railroad workers employed by a subsidiary.

25,000 Without Gas
In Charleston, W. Va., Gov. Clatter V. Meadows ordered state troopers to guard valves of domestic gas lines entering Charleston, Huntington and other West Virginia cities as between 800 and 1,300 employees of United Fuel Gas Co. continued a walkout.

A company official estimated that between 20,000 and 25,000 consumers were without fuel gas because of the walkout. The government said the walkout, which started Thursday among the CIO-affiliate union members was of a "wildcat nature."

Oil Workers union officials said it stemmed from a wage dispute and other terms of employment. A company spokesman said the wage dispute was before the war labor board.

PROBE AIR CRASH; 22 DIE IN FLAMES

FLORENCE, S. C., Sept. 8.—Military authorities and officials of the Eastern Air Lines investigating the crash of a big DC-3 transport which brought death to 22 persons near here said today the plane might have been aflame before it plunged into a dense swampland. The plane, making the night run from Miami to New York, crashed yesterday in a heavily wooded cypress swamp about eight miles northwest of Florence.

At least nine service men were reported aboard the plane. The pilot, Capt. J. Olin King of Miami, radioed the Florence air base a few minutes before the huge north-bound plane crashed as it was "having trouble" and would attempt to land there.

Both military and EAL investigators expressed the possibility the plane was afire before it crashed in the vicinity of the Peedee river to become a mangled funeral pyre for the 19 passengers and crew of three.

A Navy blimp led searchers to the scene of the accident after a 10-hour quest. The bodies, all except one burned beyond recognition, were brought to Florence, where efforts were made for individual identification.

Bans Lawn Sprinkling
WELLSVILLE, Sept. 8.—City Safety-Service Director Fred Gluth banned sprinkling of lawns and gardens here today in a move to conserve water. The water level in Little Yellow Creek reservoir has fallen from 48 to 36 feet.

YOUTH FOR CHRIST FOR SALEM
FLORENCE, Sept. 8.—The body of a man found yesterday in Mad River has been identified as Charles E. Myers, 75, a resident of the Ohio Masonic home near here. J. Arthur Shuman, Clark county sheriff, expressed a belief the man fell accidentally into the river and drowned.

Britain Asks Free U. S. Reconversion Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Britain is expected to try next week to obtain the United States' help for her reconversion to peace virtually free of cost.

The British argument will be based on the contention that a kind of postwar lend-lease arrangement would be fully justified by the sacrifices which the British made in the war.

Anglo-American economic talks will open Monday. Advance indications are that the British and American officials will start from widely-separated bargaining positions but with common agreement on one basic point: It is in the long range interest of the United States to help Britain get back into peacetime industry and trade as soon as possible.

JOBLESS PAY BACKERS BUSY

Counter-offensive Opened By John Snyder, Reconversion Director

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Signs appeared today that congress might salvage a part of President Truman's program for broadening jobless benefits.

This may be done by blanketing some federal workers and perhaps maritime workers under the unemployment pay programs.

The house ways and means and senate finance committees seemed to have foredoomed the major provisions of the legislation, which would pay the jobless up to $25 a week for 26 weeks of federal supplementation of state programs.

Meanwhile, backers of the President's broad program for liberalizing jobless benefits organized a counter-offensive.

John W. Snyder, reconversion director, sent to the congressional committees a resolution by which agriculture and labor leaders, endorsing the President's proposals.

Attached to the resolution were such names as Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and heads of the large farm and labor organizations.

Plan "Work Tests"
CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—Some 18,000 Cleveland claimants of unemployment compensation will be subjected to "work tests" next week to determine their activity in seeking "suitable employment," says B. C. Seiple, local office manager of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Seiple declared questioning of applicants would begin in an attempt to solve the paradox of the flood of applications at a time when 10,600 jobs were offered to local workers by the U. S. Employment Service.

"We shall start questioning persons who filed for unemployment compensation... and will ask them what they have done to seek suitable employment," he said.

"We shall offer them any suitable jobs that are available and, if they refuse such jobs, will report such refusals to BUC headquarters in Columbus," he asserted.

Holman said he planned a trip to Columbus Monday and would at that time inquire into the exact status of the proposed highway, which will give factories easier access to truck facilities.

400,000 NAZIS MAY FACE WAR CRIMES TRIAL

Guilty Big Shots Will Be Hanged, Small Fry to Get Labor Jobs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—As many as 400,000 Nazis may be tried for war crimes when the Allies deal justice to the architects and terrorists of World War Two, it was disclosed today.

Guilty big shots probably will be hanged. The military regards shooting as "an honorable death."

Small fry who get off with their skins may be given labor sentences, perhaps helping rebuild what they destroyed in Russia and elsewhere.

Hitler's terror organizations, the Gestapo and the SS (elite guard) will be charged collectively with war crimes. Conviction would mean automatic punishment of any member of either outfit who couldn't prove he was forced in.

These and other details were learned authoritatively today by persons familiar with the plans as the Allied War Crimes Commission moved toward the master trial at Nuremberg.

Mass Trial of Top Culprits
This will be a mass trial of top culprits, like Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering. It will begin in late October or November in the city which was for years the scene of the Nazi party's annual congress.

Nuremberg will set the pattern. Thereafter, lesser assorted murderers and conspirators will be tried—many possibly at the scenes of their crimes, as in Warsaw where the Nazis burned the entire Ghetto.

Tons of German official documents have been culled. Investigators believe many a German may have written his own death warrant in meticulous official reports of mass murders.

As the evidence is presented at the master trial, copies of these reports will be given to the 250 reporters who will be admitted.

Pictures To Be Offered
Pictures as well will be offered. From Hitler's personal photographer alone, the Allies have taken a score or more volumes of photographs.

Flag Raising Is Impressive In Simplicity

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Sept. 8.—Gen. MacArthur, shunning all fanfare as a conqueror, entered Tokyo today with fully armed troops of the First Cavalry division and officially signaled the occupation of this war-wrecked city with a 10-minute flag raising ceremony.

The supreme commander of the Allied powers was stern of visage and firm of voice at the United States embassy grounds—within five minutes' drive of Emperor Hirohito's palace—as he ordered:

"Have our country's flag unfurled and in Tokyo's sun let it wave in its full glory as a symbol of hope for oppressed and as a harbinger of victory for the right."

The general and his men came as the first foreign victors ever to enter this heart of surrendered Japan.

There was no parade of pomp. They moved in so unostentatiously with their trucks, jeeps and weapons-carriers that the sight of the flag—the one which flew over the Capitol in Washington Dec. 7, 1941, then in triumph over Rome and Berlin—was the first notice to many Tokyo residents the Americans had come.

Maj. Gen. William C. Chase's proud First Cavalry division had a huge sign ready, lettered "First Cavalry Division—First In Tokyo," as they waited at Chofu, on the southwest outskirts.

But they had to leave it hanging on a tree at the roadside. Even guidons were removed from the armored vehicles in compliance with MacArthur's direction for a simple entrance. An attempt of a group of Texans to fly the Lone Star state flag brought a sharp reprimand from General Chase.

"Get that down—no flags," he said. "Impressive Flag Raising"

The raising of the flag over the embassy grounds was impressive in its simplicity.

MacArthur arrived shortly before the 11 a. m. ceremony (10 p. m. Friday, Eastern War Time) after motoring from Yokohama. His khaki-colored car with five stars rolled up through an honor guard of the Seventh regiment, First Cavalry division, with fixed bayonets.

The guard extended from the embassy ground for two blocks. At the end of the line clusters of Japanese gathered in curiosity.

There had been little interest evidenced by the Japanese in the troops' arrival. They merely stared impassively at jeeps of reconnaissance elements.

MacArthur entered the grounds accompanied by Adm. Halsey, commander of the Third fleet, and Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, whose Eighth army is occupying central and north Honshu, including Tokyo.

They greeted Gen. Chase. MacArthur walked swiftly to a

DAYLIGHT TIME REPEAL PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Congressional leaders promised today to set the nation's clocks back an hour Sept. 30.

They will do this by having congress abolish what is known as daylight saving or war time, under which the clocks were moved ahead an hour in 1942. The idea then was to provide more day time for war work.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the house appropriations committee and Chairman Boren of a house interstate commerce subcommittee said the repealer would pass quickly.

Blueprint Of Future War Preparedness Is Planned
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A senate committee intends to blueprint the know-how of war preparedness.

Chairman Mead (D-NY) told a newspaper today before the war investigating committee disbands it will lay down a master plan for getting this country's fighting machinery into action quickly.

"We hope there will be no more war," he said. "We have to put trust and confidence in the United Nations organization. But we must never again be without the resources and materials necessary for our own security."

That, he added, is more important than any amount of military training for young men.

Mead said the committee intends to show in its report where the bottlenecks developed in World War II production. It plans to point to unanticipated shortages and bugs that cropped up in building the world's best equipped military machines.

The moral ought to be plain, he said. It is: Get ready in advance to meet these problems next time—in case there is a next time.

The committee chairman said all of this would take economic, as well as military training.

"We ought never to have to build another Alaskan highway, inter-American highway or Canal project at tremendous expense in the middle of a war," he declared. Canol was an oil refinery project in Canada.

The war investigating committee has enough money to keep operating until the fiscal year ends next June 30. Mead said it will be busy in the meantime.

It plans to keep a watchful eye on demobilization, recovery and surplus property disposal. It isn't finished yet with inquiries about lend-lease.

But most of all, Mead said, the committee wants to be sure Uncle Sam gets bases and commercial rights abroad in return for some of the war outlays made.

Stage Set For Biggest Columbiana County Fair

Four Gala Days, Starting Wednesday, To Mark 100th Anniversary; Attractive Program Is Arranged

Four gala days—Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week—will mark the 100th anniversary of the Columbiana County Fair at the Lisbon fairgrounds.

With one of the largest crowds in history expected for the century celebration, arrangements are nearing completion for an extravagant program on each of the four days to give fair-goers one of the finest events ever seen in the county.

Harness racing each day, a large parade each evening, the usual horse-pulling contests, pony races, a Junior day for children, rides of all sorts, concessions and band concerts by four different organizations—all are scheduled to add zest to the summer spectacle.

Howard Sinclair, fair board secretary, said today that if the weather holds out the largest turnout in the history of the fair is expected. He bases his conclusions on turnouts at other fairs throughout this district within the last few weeks.

The World Today....

Drama of Mikado

By DEWITT MACKENZIE,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

A LONG, long line of Japanese war lords and other criminals must be made to walk the plank if we are to get lasting peace, and the scene we square our jaws for the task, the better.

The amazing disclosure of how the militarists plotted and fought to prevent the mikado from surrendering, even after the atomic bomb has demonstrated its annihilating power, shows the grip of militarism in Nippon.

The barbarities which are being uncovered in the Japanese prison camps are in themselves enough to condemn the nation.

The whole nasty situation is well summed up in a statement by the sultan of Johore, whose state lies just across the narrow strait from Singapore. He says the Japanese commander of that great naval base, Lt. Gen. Itagaki, declared a few days ago that he expected to return to Singapore about 20 years hence.

That's what the Allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, as this column pointed out a couple of days ago, if the Allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

I raise the subject again, not because we need fear that supreme Commander MacArthur will be too lenient, but because it is well for the allied public to be prepared to do a stern job in Japan.

The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russell Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the commanding general of the emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent an imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they

Problems of Peace

President Truman's voluminous message to Congress, one of the longest ever submitted by any executive, takes recognition of the fact that conducting a peace is a more complex business than waging a war.

In more than a score of major items, each more or less controversial, the President sets up the whole master plan for postwar America. It is a program so ambitious that only its essentials may be comprehended on first reading. It is only as Congress takes it up step by step that its full significance will be revealed.

In sending a program filled with such staggering possibilities to Congress, the President acted, no doubt, as many others have done and asked for more than he expects to obtain. Certainly, there will be no smooth sailing for his full list of recommendations for it contains many items on which opinions differ widely. It is well, however, to have the whole picture before the lawmakers before they start to consider the many important items which make up the whole.

This will be a pre-campaign session and congressmen will be running for re-election next year on the records which they make during the session now beginning. Before it is over, congressmen will have earned the salary increases recommended in one section of the message.

The peacetime future of this country will be determined largely by the action taken on such matters as reconversion, labor legislation, provision for returning veterans, public works and the help which the nation gives in rebuilding other parts of the globe from the ruins of war.

The future welfare of every American will depend in large measure on what Congress does with the President's recommendations for regardless of whether we agree with the stand he takes on these questions, they are the major issues which must be determined correctly if the standards of American life are to be maintained in the postwar world.

"Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war," said John Milton to Oliver Cromwell. Peace also has her problems and only the same national unity of purpose to solve them will bring the nation and the world through the sorely perplexing times which lie ahead.

Clarify The G. I. Bill

Top item on the agenda for the new session of Congress should be clarification of the G. I. Bill of Rights to assure returning servicemen all the privileges and opportunities Congress intended them to have when it passed the measure.

In administering the law legal questions have arisen as to whether it applies to men who enlisted without waiting for the draft to catch up with them. Clearly Congress intended no discrimination against men who offered their services voluntarily and this cloud on the bill's intent should be removed at once.

As the next step, restatement of the provisions concerning the veterans' right to a job is required. Many of its provisions are uncertain and already serious controversies have arisen over interpretations.

The mere fact that a soldier has given his gun back to the government and has put on his overalls again does not decrease the debt which the country owes him and which it recognized in the G. I. bill while the fighting was still under way.

The intent which Congress had in mind at that time should be reaffirmed so clearly that no court, no employer and no group of any kind will have any trouble understanding just what it means. Any questions should be settled at once and they should be settled in favor of the serviceman.

Down To Business

The Ohio legislature has just given a demonstration of a law-making body functioning with efficiency and dispatch. Called for the sole purpose of changing the unemployment compensation law, it rode rough-shod over efforts of pressure groups to inject other issues into the discussion, passed the required legislation and adjourned.

The amendment making the increased compensation retroactive to Aug. 15 is just and reasonable. That date, the day after Japanese surrender, was the day on which war workers started to lose their jobs and it is simple justice to start their increased compensation at that time instead of waiting until Oct. 12, the date provided by the measure as it was passed originally.

By thus giving unemployment compensation a maximum of $21 a week for 22 weeks, Ohio becomes one of the more liberal states in caring for its jobless during the reconversion period.

Unified Command

A single department of national defense with unified command over all land, sea and air forces of the United States is recommended by the top officers of all three branches.

It is to the everlasting credit of the commanders of our forces that they functioned as a smoothly operating team to win victory but it is possible to imagine a situation in which a clash of personalities and policies between the different departments might endanger national security.

Purpose of all three arms of the service is the same and accomplishment of that purpose will be more certain when they are all knit into one single service under one responsible head. The argument that efficiency is improved by the friendly rivalry of distinct organizations, each head by a specialist, is answered by the fact that this striving for improvement will not be lessened if one supreme command and its above these specialists to unify their efforts.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, September 9.

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds augury of sudden, strange and probably dramatic and thrilling events, which might develop high adventure or unlooked for romance or other unpredictable denouements. These might be switched to most enjoyable and unprecedented experiences, although there may be tenacious obstacles, or malefic situations to overcome or combat with tact and discretion. Over-strenuous or impulsive emotions might precipitate lasting regrets.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of sudden and unpredictable developments, with surprising and far-reaching results. These might be diverted into lucrative, productive and romantic adventure, with much drama and thrills, but if bungled by over-emotional or impulsive action, too aggressive or strenuous, might have unhappy or disruptive reactions on both business and private life. Prudence and finesse might promote romance and high adventure.

A child born on this day may have unusual talents and creative abilities, although these may be subject to strange limitations, interference or obstructions. A dramatic, emotional life is indicated.

For Monday, September 10

MONDAY'S astrological forecast enjoining a concentrated effort in marshalling all resources, energies, plans and practical skills in order to escape certain decidedly disintegrating and uprooting circumstances that might prove turbulent and devastating. A sudden upset or deep-seated breaking away from regular and routine circumstances if met with decisive and skillful as well as shrewd and wary tactics should yield profitable and surprising results.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year of happiness, progress and much constructive work if they will apply themselves with energy, determination and well-organized techniques, in an effort to repair or sidestep very destructive, uprooting or disintegrating circumstances, affecting all relations and contacts with separate and disruptive forces. Should the high-strung tensions, emotions and impulses be curbed for a program of rational, practical and workable attack there might be surprising returns with pleasant, even romantic, culminations.

A child born on this day may be active, energetic and have fine constructive ability, but may be disposed to be carried away by emotions, impulses or excesses.

Brief History

Before the parade of heavy and scholarly histories of the recent world conflict starts rolling off the presses, we should like to present a friend's succinct treatment of the same subject. For all its brevity and apparent simplicity we think it's good. And we offer it in the hope that it may save you a good deal of unnecessary reading.

It's just this: "Germany, Italy and Japan could not beat the United States, Great Britain and Russia."

Scientists believe civilization can gain great benefits from the atomic bomb. And what it helped bring about in Japan proves the thought.

Synthetic butter made from coal was one of Germany's war secrets. Might come under the head of black market.

Uses of New Drugs In Pneumonia Types

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

SINCE the development of penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs, much attention has been attracted to the use of these remarkable remedies in the treatment of pneumonia. Many persons, indeed, are confused as to just what treatment should be carried out in cases of pneumonia, for not only has penicillin been found effective in many types of this disease, but, also, the sulfonamide drugs have been life-saving in caring for patients with pneumonia. Of course, it is the doctor who decides as to just what treatment to use according to the type of pneumonia the patient has.

Penicillin is effective in pneumonia when the pneumonia is due to such germs as the pneumococcus, staphylococcus or hemolytic streptococcus or to a combination of these various germs. Penicillin, however, is not effective when the pneumonia is of the virus type, that is, the type caused by an organism so small that it can pass through the openings in a porcelain filter.

Another Germ

There is also a germ known as the Friedlander's bacillus which can produce pneumonia. Penicillin is not effective against this type of pneumonia.

Sulfonamide drugs are also effective in pneumonia caused by the pneumococcus, but these drugs also are of no value in virus pneumonia, and do not seem to be effective against the staphylococcus type.

Sulfonamide drugs, unfortunately, have a toxic effect on some patients. That is, the patient reacts unfavorably to them. Penicillin does not cause these reactions. The sulfonamides may produce such effects as a lessening in the number of white cells in the blood, anemia or lessening of the coloring in the blood, fever, skin eruptions, and damage to the kidneys. The sulfonamides often cause loss of appetite. For these reasons, sulfonamide drugs are not given unless there is definite evidence that they will be of benefit to the patient.

Virus Pneumonia

Virus pneumonia is apparently a frequent disorder. It may occur in epidemics. A study made in army camps showed that there were four to eight times as many cases of virus pneumonia as of pneumonia due to pneumococcus germs. In virus pneumonia, the symptoms are fever, a feeling of sickness, faintness and severe and persistent coughing. A diagnosis usually can be made by taking an X-ray of the chest. Virus pneumonia usually lasts longer than pneumococcal pneumonia, often two or three weeks.

The treatment of virus pneumonia consists of complete rest in bed, keeping up the patient's strength in any way possible, and the administration of plenty of fluids. In addition to the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin the treatment of other types of pneumonia includes the use of oxygen and blood transfusions. Such drugs as codeine may be given to control coughing.

Bear in mind that there are many types of pneumonia, and that the doctor determines the type present before treatment is started.

Dr. Bundesen will answer letters containing medical questions only through his column. Address your inquiries to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Navy Recruiting Stations Start Enlistment Drive

Navy recruiting stations all over the country are initiating an all out drive for voluntary enlistments, particularly in the regular Navy, among men 17 to 30 inclusive.

The Navy's recruiting drive is designed to speed demobilization of men with long year service, to reduce the Navy's calls through Selective Service and at the same time to enable the Navy to fulfill its extensive responsibilities through the transition period and beyond.

During August, despite the ban on recruiting men between the draft ages of 18 and 37 inclusive, the Navy enlisted more than 16,000 men in the 17-year age group, with parental consent. Of this number 13,000 joined the regular Navy and the balance entered the Naval Reserve.

Now that the bars are raised permitting the Armed services to reach into the draft age for voluntary enlistments the Navy is endeavoring at least to triple the August figures in coming months.

Montgomery War Action Aims At Federal Seizure

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Montgomery Ward and Co. today asked the supreme court to declare the government seizure of its properties in seven cities invalid.

Wards has appealed from the Seventh federal circuit court's 2 to 1 decision of last June which upheld an order by the late President Roosevelt directing the army to seize the properties.

The circuit court found the order valid under the war labor disputes act. It reversed a finding by U. S. District Judge Philip L. Sullivan of Chicago that the president had neither statutory nor constitutional authority for the seizure.

President Truman recently ordered the return to private owners of all plants seized by the government during the war. Ward's petition to the high court said the army has continued in control of the properties and contended the importance of the questions involved was "not diminished by termination of hostilities."

The long-litigated case arose from Ward's refusal to abide by War Labor Board directive.

Army Officers Eligible For Discharge On Points

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Army officers up to the grade of colonel—some 200,000 of them—were eligible for discharge today under a new discharge point system. Points will be computed as of Sept. 2 on the same basis as for enlisted men.

The department said the army plans to release 600,000 of its 800,000 officers by next July 1.

Wherever this flag flies, a song fills the hearts of men. It is the Star Spangled Banner, composed during another war a young man of patriotic fervor, inspired by Old Glory's fortitude.

He saw men die defending the stars and stripes, and if Francis Scott Key were alive today he would again feel the urge to write in song, his tribute to the glory of our flag and to the courage of the men fighting under her colors. If we truly revere our flag, each of us can do our part in defending her by unhaltingly buying more Bonds.

Sinclair Title Favorites

MULLINS, OILS TO CLASH FOR CLASS A TITLE

Class A and B Series Set For Reilly Stadium Beginning Monday

Pre-game indications rank the Sinclair Oilers as favorites to capture the "Little World Series" scheduled at Reilly stadium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week when they tangle with Mullins, first round champs, for the city championship.

The Oilers, managed ably by Bob "Buck" Ritchie, have shown steady improvement all season. Mullins, on the other hand, has realized a decline since the first round ended.

Handicapped considerably by the loss of their regular hurler, Francis Lanney, who entered the Army last week, the Oilers men will have to depend on Marty Pauline for all three contests.

Pauline, though not as speedy a pitcher as Lanney, tossed for the outfit all through the 1944 season, compiling a creditable record. Whether or not he can vie with some of the heavy hitters on the Oil team will remain to be seen.

Oilers Jinx To Mullins

Mullins has been definitely "jinxed" by Ritchie's squad all season. The two aggregations have met four times and the Oilers have topped the Mullins men each time. Sinclair is the only squad to beat Mullins more than once, and only three other league squads accomplished that feat this season.

Manager Patsy Konnerth will have headaches galore patching up his once-powerful lineup. Since Mullins reigned supreme in the loop during the first round, Lanney, Shortstop Jimmie Appedisan and Third Baseman Walt Brian have left the regulars to enter service. All three were experts in the field and powerhouses at the plate. Substitutes of equal ability will not be easily found.

Joe Kelley, league manager, said the first team to win two games will be the champ, and the series would end Tuesday, should either team win the first two contests.

The Columbians loom as heavy favorites in the B league playoff, having won three of the four inter-league round titles. The Youth Center has been beaten four times by the Irish this season.

BIG TEN GRIDIRON MACHINES AT WORK

Round-Up of Conference Shows Coaches On Line-up Fence

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Western Conference football coaches, who have been putting their charges through a lot of hard work during the past few weeks, still can't find starting lineups among candidates perpendicularly Freshmen.

It was apparent yesterday that most of them sidetracked rugged scramblers to watch their first-team aspirants run through signal drills, blocking practices and other fundamentals as season openers neared.

At Columbus, Coach Carroll Widener of Ohio State put his title contenders through two workouts emphasizing blocking and passing. He also said he was promoting Thornton Dixon, 200-pounder who was a varsity player from 1939 to 1941, to right tackle on the first team. Dixon had been in the ASTP, which made him ineligible for participation in football until this season.

At Purdue, Coach Cecil Isbell looked for ends to do the catching for his aerial circus in a long work-out featuring both passing and punting. Bill Horvath did a lot of the kicking for the Boilermakers.

Wolverines Open
Michigan, one of the circuit's title contenders and first team to open the season, in a game against Great Lakes next Saturday, took things easy yesterday in preparation for today's final scrimmage.

Indiana took things easy in preparation for its first intrasquad game today, with Coach A. N. (Bo) McMillin sending his Hoosiers through a light scrimmage while he sought a suitable understudy for Veteran Fullback John Cannaday.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher at Wisconsin held the toughest workout of the day. He ordered a stiff scrimmage, with Dan Orlick teasing two touchdown passes and contributing some fine running, while Larry Lauer turned in a fine defensive job at center.

Coach Ray E. Eliot at Illinois, meanwhile, lined up three teams and put them through a long session of signal running and blocking drills.

Northwestern moaned the loss of first-string Quarterback Jim Farrara, who suffered a knee injury in practice that will keep him out of the lineup for at least a month.

Associated Press Sports Writer
Barring a baseball miracle, the American league race has narrowed down to a two-way stretch between Detroit and Washington with St. Louis, New York and Cleveland on the brink of elimination. Only unexpectedly strong comebacks by the Browns, six games back, and the Yankees, who trail by 6 1/2 lengths, could save them from the disaster suffered in their series with the Senators and Tigers. St. Louis has only 22 to play and New York 23.

Cleveland was given an outside chance at the big money when Bobby Feller returned but a double loss to St. Louis Labor day and three defeats in four starts at Boston have snuffed out Tribal hopes. Luke Sewell brought his defending champs east with a sizzling past performance record of 19 victories in their last 25 contests in a drive that had boosted them from seventh to third. Dropping four of five to the Senators' keen pitching left the Browns reeling on the ropes.

George Case all but ran St. Louis out of the park at Washington last night stealing three bases, including a theft of home, in a 3-2 razor-thin verdict for Roger Wolf over Bud Murcin.

Detroit's aching back pitching staff continued to make life miserable for the Yank sluggers. Hal Newhouse, fresh from a series of examinations by the Motor City medics, threw his high hard one past the home club, turning in a near four-hit, 5-0 game to assure the Bengals of the seven-game series. The Tigers captured four out of six with one to be played today.

Tigers Tough
The Yankees are witnesses to the fact that, with either Trout or his southpaw teammate on the hill, Steve O'Neill's gang really looks like a championship outfit. Eddie Mayo continued his sensational hitting streak with 13 safeties in 27 at bats boosting his average to .305 and a place in baseball's big six for the first time.

Mike Ryba, Boston's venerable handy man, doused Cleveland with a three-hit coat of whitewash, 1-0, outpointing Mel Harder, Philadelphia's copped both ends of a twin bill from Chicago, 4-3 and 9-2 with the help of five White Sox boots. Bill Connelly, a 19-year-old lad from Alberta, Va., registered his first big league triumph in the opener and Charley Gassaway copped the finale.

St. Louis paled the Chicago Cubs' National lead to four games by blanking Boston on George Dockins' three-hitter, 4-0, after New York's Sal Maglie had handcuffed the Bruins, 2-0, for his third shutout in six major league starts.

Tom Seats and Art Herring teamed up on Pittsburgh to hurl Brooklyn to a 3-2 decision. The Phillies and Cincinnati split another double bill, the Reds copulating the first, 6-2 for Joe Bowman and the Phils easing out an 8-6 margin in the finale despite two homers by Eddie Miller.

ENLISTMENT OF EACH SALEM SPORT FAN, BOOSTERS GOAL

With a goal of 500 for the 1945-46 membership, 150 more than it had last year, the Salem Boosters club has launched its membership campaign.

A meeting—preceding the opening game with Cleveland Rhodes at Reilly stadium next Friday—will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday in the Memorial building, Joe M. Kelley, president, announced today.

The initial session will be given over to plans for recruiting new members and re-signing old ones. Business relative to the club's plans for the football season will be formulated, committees appointed and arrangements begun.

Kelley urged all interested, whether they were Boosters last year or not, to attend the meeting, being held early so that sports fans can take in the playoffs in the Class A and B softball leagues at Reilly stadium.

Seek All Sport Fans
No definite plans have been made for activity this year and a report from the club's treasurer, Arthur S. Brian, will be heard to consider the financial condition.

The organization is ardently seeking new members and its aim is to enlist every sports fan in Salem in the organization.

If you weren't a member in 1944 and would like to join this year, or if you were a member last year and want to assure yourself of a new membership card, fill in the following lines, clip them out and mail to Joe Kelley at the Memorial building.

SALEM BOOSTERS CLUB:

Please have one of your members contact me regarding a membership in the club for the coming year.

Saga Of American Bowling Is Continued In Histories Of ABC, Now 50 Years Old

The American Bowling Congress will be 50 years old on Sept. 9. It will stage a formal celebration in New York City at Beethoven hall where on Sept. 9, 1895, a handful of New York and Brooklyn bowlers formed an organization which they named the American Bowling Congress.

The ABC has asked its 1,150 city associations to stage 50th anniversary celebrations on any date they choose. As a result, many have been held in connection with their usual summer bowling events while 300 more are scheduled during the coming season.

The "founding fathers" created a code of bowling rules, elected Tom Curtis of Brooklyn, president, to enforce the laws until Jan. 13, 1896, when a constitution and by-laws were adopted. Half a century later the ABC boasts a million members in a sport that has at least 16,000 devotees.

The first 25 years of the ABC found it struggling for membership which grew from 240 teams to 2,700 teams. Its 26th year found it encountering the prohibition amendment. That year was a record breaker for 5,100 teams joined; 40 times the membership in 1918-19, proved to the officials of ABC that the sport could thrive in a non-alcoholic atmosphere.

Peak In Dry Era
The peak membership of the prohibition era came in 1930-31, distinguished by the nation's longest and severest depression, yet the Congress had 44,000 teams which was 130 times larger than its last season prior to the enactment of the Dry law. Emerging from the depression saw team membership grow rapidly until in 1938-39 it exceeded 103,000 teams. The record year came in 1941-42 with 190,000 teams.

The Congress was formed to regulate bowling but in 1901 it was compelled to embark on a promotional plan of staging an international championship tournament. Its first tournament in the Welsbach building, Chicago, in 1901, drew only 41 teams. The 40th tournament in Detroit in 1940 had 6,073 teams for a record. The last tournament held in Columbus in 1942 drew 5,742 teams and took 72 days to complete.

The 42 tournaments from 1901 to 1942 saw a total of 2,621,991 games rolled for a total of $2,953,352 in prizes which were awarded to the winners through the medium of 96,633 prize checks.

The Congress has given 3,092 gold awards medals, belt buckles or rings to bowlers rolling 300 games. The total of teams enrolled during the 50 years of existence of the Congress is 1,665,668, which means that the ratio of a perfect game to number of teams is 1 to every 530.

Will Hold Ceremony
On Sept. 9, 1896, a group of New York and Brooklyn bowlers met at Beethoven hall in New York City and created the American Bowling Congress.

On Sept. 9, 1945, officials of the Congress will stage a formal ceremony at Beethoven hall in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Congress.

SALEM ATHLETICS TO USE ACE HILL MAN ONCE AGAIN

Lefty Smith Will Display His Wares Against AA Youngstowners

Scott Chisholm's Salem Athletics, riding a crest of impressive victories, will meet the Youngstown Weatherseals at Centennial park in a top-notch sports attraction at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Once-victorious over the Weatherseals this season, the A. C. goes into tomorrow's contest seeking its 11th win in the past 12 games.

The Salemites will be unquestionable favorites in the game, as Frank "Lefty" Smith, who has been setting batters down with consistency here, will be tossing them in from the hill for Salem.

Smith, whose "booper-ball" and speedball exploits have been thrilling Salem fans for several weeks, hurled a three-hit 1-0 victory over the Youngstown C-6 club here Wednesday.

Fans Plenty
Two weeks ago he posted 16 strike-outs in an eighth inning fray against Youngstown's tough North Side Civics.

Blessed with the "know-how" of hurling and an arm that gives out with a variety of slow balls, curves and blazing speed, the left-hander has had little trouble with opposition on the Centennial park diamond this year.

Chisholm has arranged a special feature—a model airplane flight exhibition—for between the seventh and eighth innings.

The Weatherseals and Salem tangled earlier in the year on the Columbiana Firestone park diamond and Salem came home with a 10-2 victory.

The Youngstowners have closed their league schedule, finishing in fourth place, but are still engaged in independent contests.

BOWLING LEAGUES SET TWO MEETINGS

Further organization meetings of the National and American bowling leagues will be held at the Masonic temple next week, William Juergens said today.

Three teams are needed to round out the eight-team loops, he said. Anyone wishing to enter a team this year should attend the sessions.

The American league will meet at 8 p. m. Monday and the National at 8 Tuesday in the Masonic temple.

Under order: John Floss of Buffalo, George Strack of Astoria, N. Y., George Stearns of Des Moines, Frank Pasdeloup of Chicago and Charley Cushing of Peoria, Pasdeloup held the post 35 years.

Twenty of the presidents of the Congress are deceased. The 11 living presidents will take prominent places in the various Golden Jubilee celebrations in Sept. 9.

Headquarters Moved
National headquarters for the organization was moved from New York city to Dayton, Ohio, in 1898 when "Karpf" accepted a business post there. It was moved to Milwaukee in 1908 when Langtry became secretary. Baumgarten, a Chicago man, established a precedent by refusing to move the office. The Congress has had five treasurers.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—From this second-guessing standpoint it appears the National Collegiate A. A. "skulled one" badly last winter by not formulating a rule on eligibility of service men returning to college athletics. . . . Even then it was obvious the athletic directors had widely divergent ideas on the subject.

But they didn't do anything to reconcile them. . . . Now the Southern conference, which adopted a no-transfer rule, has found it necessary to call a Sept. 28 meeting to reconsider. . . . The American Legion has protested and so has Auburn, which stands to lose such players as H. M. Smalley, who attended Alabama less than a month and then played at Oklahoma U. and Leonard (Shine) Robinson, whose previous experience was at Troy, Ala., Teachers, a school that doesn't have football now.

OLD BUT GOOD
The Thoroughbred Racing association's Alex Robb comes up with this one about a race track clocker who took a war job timing shells for the Army. . . . "Hugh," granted a skeptical pal when he heard of this, "he'll hold out the best ones for himself."

FIGHT RESULTS
NEW YORK—The Williams, 134%, Trenton, N. J., outpointed Nick Moran, 138%, Mexico City, 10 (non-title).

Remove Controls On Slaughtering

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. — The OPA today removed all controls over how much livestock may be slaughtered.

The agency also dropped its "fair distribution plan," which required slaughterers to follow the same geographic distribution pattern in making shipments that they used during the first quarter of 1944.

The two actions do not immediately affect meat rationing, but if expected increases in livestock marketing materialize, rationing may end fairly soon.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said there had been marked improvement in the supply of meat available to civilians since the end of the war. He added, however, the supply is not yet adequate to assure good distribution without rationing controls.

The slaughter control program went into effect last April when the meat shortage became acute.

May Delay Law Change Employing Women, Minors

COLUMBUS, Sept. 8.—Termination of Ohio's wartime law relaxing restrictions on employment of women and minors may be delayed past Sept. 15, Gov. Frank J. Lausche has indicated.

The governor previously indicated the Ross and Cory acts would be terminated Sept. 15, since he felt that a month after the war's end would provide employers with sufficient time for the change-over.

Lausche said, however, many manufacturers had informed him they could not return to pre-war laws restricting employment of women by that date without reducing their output.

The Ross act, passed in 1943, permits factories to exceed the 45-hour maximum peace-time work week for women in war production and allows mercantile establishments to extend their normal 48-hour maximum to 50 hours. The Corey act, passed in 1943, continued the practice.

Crile Head to Retire

FLAG RAISING

position in front of the ornate but now empty lily pond in the center of the embassy compound.

The clear notes of "The General's March" floated over the quiet Azabu district from the First Cavalry band. MacArthur then spoke his terse flag-raising order to Gen. Eichelberger, who saluted.

Atop the chancellery building, 100 yards distant, three cavalry veterans stood on the twisted, rusted metal roof amid black embers. The building had been damaged by a B-29 fire raid May 25.

The soldiers were Lt. William J. Cochran, Joplin, Mo., Staff Sgt. Charles R. Shoptear, Jackson, O., and Sgt. Morton Copenhaver, of Philadelphia, Pa.—all veterans of the Philippine campaign.

They raised the flag up the 30-foot pole while the band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

No Japanese Present

Adm. Halsey stood silently at attention. A little later, he looked around the embassy garden, then stared at the flag as if thinking of the long, hard pull which had brought his Third Fleet to Tokyo bay.

MacArthur held a stiff salute until the flag reached the top. No Japanese were present.

Lt. Col. Eugene Patrick Walsh of Richmond, Va., stepped forward and prayed:

"On this historical day, as peace comes to all mankind, we humbly entreat the abundant blessings of Almighty God on all nations throughout the entire world. Long and valiantly have men fought and died to see this day of peace; and now may the Lord God order our days and deeds in His peace forever and ever. Amen."

As the prayer ended, MacArthur smiled.

He shook hands with Eichelberger and Halsey, then said to the latter: "Let's go, Bill," and led the way to the waiting cars.

Tension Broke

The tension broke. Throughout the crowd such comments were heard as: "Our job is done; when do we go home?"

The well-disciplined troops had begun a dignified occupation.

The first reconnaissance groups entered around 7 a. m. (6 p. m. Friday, Eastern War Time) and set up a guard at the Imperial hotel, to serve for the time being as general headquarters.

The first enlisted man to step across an imaginary line into Tokyo was Pfc. Paul E. Davis, 24, driver of D troop, 12th regiment.

He was allowed the honor because of his Pacific service—and because Veterans of Foreign Wars of his home county of Ottawa, Oklahoma, had offered a $1,000 reward.

400,000 NAZIS

graphs which tell their story of top level Nazi knowledge and guilt.

The basis for the prosecution will be the charge of the Nazi leaders committed crimes against the peace. They planned and waged aggressive war in violation of international treaties. They violated rules and customs of war.

It isn't certain yet whether the entire German general staff will be charged collectively as will the SS and Gestapo.

French Slow To Join

The French were slow to join the U. S.-championed position that offensive war is a crime—although France has been invaded thrice in a life time.

Some of the Russians wondered why any trials were necessary. To them the guilt seemed obvious.

A strong segment of British opinion earlier inclined to the Russian view.

The chief war crimes prosecutor for the United States is Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson. He stated the American belief thus:

American Belief

"If we can inculcate the idea that aggressive war making is the way to the prisoner's dock rather than the way to honors, we will have accomplished something toward making the peace more secure."

The reasoning behind the allied decision to hold trials is this: Trials will build up a formal, legal record, specifically and in general. The record would come in handy if—say 10 years hence—the Germans begin trying to make themselves believe somebody else started the war, that nobody ever proved the charges against their leaders.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
(By Associated Press)

YOKOHAMA — Japanese street scenes: Refugees flooding back to Yokohama, with women carrying babies in the traditional "piggy back" manner. . . . Junior security strapped to mama's tired shoulders by two cloth bands—one around his bottom and one under his arms.

Thousands of refugees living in rusty tin sheet huts in bombed out areas. . . . crazy shacks like settlements that sprang up in the United States during the big depression.

Clothing is almost as big a problem as food for the Japanese. . . . they are so short of fabrics it is no longer possible for them to patch garments with cloths of the same color. . . . One dignified man, wearing spectacles and carrying an umbrella, had a coat so patched it could have been stretched out and used for a chess board.

Scarcity of shoes also has given these people reason for exercising ingenuity. . . . many pick their way on bare feet through glass-littered streets. . . . Others wear the black fabric shoes with split toes, like something from medieval times. . . . Only the well to do can afford leather footwear.

Most stiff-legged about on flat wooden foot-shaped boards. . . . Groups of workmen wearing these stilt-like shoes sound like a cavalry charge.

Japanese girls have come out of brief hiding. . . . Their parents are convinced American soldiers won't harm them, an opinion in which the soldiers enthusiastically concur. . . . "Most of them look more like Madam Butterfly than Madam Butterfly."

The girls are extremely coy and giggle whenever a group of soldiers pass. . . . Few wear kimonos on the streets. . . . Most dress in workaday slacks and, sad to relate, they bunch out behind just like the girls in trousers at home.

Yokohama looks in large patches like a series of civic dumps. . . . Modern hotels and banks built of stone and steel stood up well under American fire-bombing. . . . but a couple of "black-buster" raids could easily have demolished them, too.

One of the oddest sights is a flattened square block in which the only things sticking up through the rubble are four old iron safes. . . . the back of one is blasted from hinges but the other three are intact and locked. . . . Everyone wonders what's inside of them.

This is really a land of umbrellas. . . . Every busy little Japanese carries a battered black cloth or bamboo ribbed rain protector, tucked under his elbow. . . . Many civilians as well as soldiers wear wrap-around leggings.

In the rice fields and vegetable gardens bordering the city, the Japanese of all ages tend crops that must save them from starvation. . . . children who could still be riding around in baby buggies in Brooklyn, work side by side with gray, wrinkled cronies.

There are many street scavengers and nothing escapes them. . . . they put quart bottles they pick up behind their ears.

I haven't seen a Japanese beggar hold out his hand to an American for help. . . . they will in time. . . . But now most Japanese leave the conquerors strictly alone.

Movies are still entertainment where the Japanese seek to forget their troubles. . . . No Japanese seems too poor to fork over the ten cents admission. . . . The pictures are Japanese productions. . . . One American wisecracker: "They are still showing news reels of Pearl Harbor."
